

Brendo and Rhianon are recovering well after their accident in Rally South Australia on Sunday. Both remain in hospital for the time being but are doing as well as can be expected.

According to Mike Reeves, Brendo and Rhianon's father, "Brendan was up and about briefly this morning although very sore and bruised but with no major breakages. Rhianon is in good spirits after surgery to pin her broken bones."

We'll have more news on the pair's progress as it comes to hand. In the meantime, email your get well wishes to getwellsoon@brendanreeves.com.au and we'll pass all messages on to Brendo and Rhi.
